Featured Producers

Bernhard Huber, Germany

The Huber winery is located in Malterdingen in the winegrowing region of Baden in the foothills of the Forest Mountains in Germany's Deep South west. Pinot Noir has been cultivated in the village for well over 700 years, having been brought there from Burgundy by the Cistercian monk

Ted Lemon, U.S.A

Ted established a gravity-flow winery in 1998 that is environmentally sensitive, built of straw bales with all the waste being recycled. The vineyards owned and leased by Littorai have all been under the influence of biodynamic techniques since Ted first came into contact with the methods in 1996. As well as making his own wines, Ted consults to others, most notably new superstar biodynamic Central Otago winery Burn Cottage.

Produttori Del Barbaresco, Italy

Situated due east of Alba in Piemonte, Northern Italy, Barbaresco is one of the country's most notable wine producing regions. The wines are 100% Nebbiolo characterised a by powerful elegant structure typically showing roses, violet on the nose and truffle, cherry and liquorice on the palette. Some see interesting similarities to the great pinot noirs of the world. Produttori is one of Italy's most respected cooperatives, set up in 1884, with the founder Domizio Cavazza considered to be the 'Father of Barbaresco'. A defining factor in the wine's production is the use of large cask maturation, and a minimum aging 2 years for standard DOGC wines and 4 years for the Riserva wines giving the wines their distinctive personality.
