Polperro

“ It’s a pretty special patch of dirt we are privileged to care for. At the southern tip of mainland Australia, we make wines that speak of their place and time. ”

Polperro and Even Keel Wines are owned by winemaker, Sam Coverdale and his wife, Emma Phillips. Sam started Even Keel wines in 2006 before he and Emma went on to establish Polperro Wines on the Mornington Peninsula in 2009. The beating heart of Polperro, and the home & cellar door of both labels, lives under the shade of ancient, giant Angophora Myrtaceae trees in Red Hill. It has been a place to put down our roots, both literally and figuratively, always putting more into the land than we take out.

While our Vineyard Dining showcases the wines of Polperro and Even Keel, our wine list provides the opportunity to explore the world by the bottle.

POLPERRO WINE /

Our premium single vineyard wines capture the essence of the maritime climate of the Mornington Peninsula and the unique expressions of five individual vineyard sites, specialising in Pinot Noir, and Chardonnay.

Sam Coverdale, owner and winemaker, along with his team, tend to every facet of vineyard management, wine growing and wine making. This ensures that the resulting wines demonstrate a clear sense of place where the elements of the soil, micro climate and the people who tend to the land come together to create something truly unique. We manage nine vineyards, five of which are used to create our single vineyard wines.

Our Mornington Peninsula single vineyard range consists of Talland Hill, which is Certified Organic and Bio-dynamic, Landaviddy Lane (sub region Shoreham), Mill Hill (sub region Red Hill) the highest vineyard on the Peninsula, Coverdale and Little Laney.

EVEN KEEL WINE /

Even Keel is a label-at-large, celebrating the individual strengths of cool climate regions of Australia. Each region is selected for having the optimum conditions to suit specific varieties, such as Pinot Gris from the Mornington Peninsula, Syrah from the Canberra District, Chardonnay from Tumbarumba and Shiraz from Heathcote.

With a long history of trusted working relationships, Sam selects growers with the utmost care. Every aspect of the growing—from pruning, canopy management and harvesting—is overseen. At harvest, the fruit is carefully hand-picked and transferred to our Polperro winery on the Mornington Peninsula to be vinified and matured. Here the same care and dedication is shown to these selected parcels of fruit as to the wines of the Polperro label. The resulting wines are true expressions of their region.
